

EBKA ANNUAL CONFERENCE 2018

HOSTED BY BRAINTREE BEEKEEPERS' ASSOCIATION

'Bees and Well Being'

The theme of our conference is the ways in which bees enrich our lives and make a difference to our world. Bees promote biodiversity by providing essential pollination for a wide range of crops honey is becoming a powerful new weapon in the battle against hospital-acquired infections being around bees can raise a person's self-esteem and the educational benefits are now being recognised. Let's learn more from our three speakers.

Speakers:

Bunny Campione, Daws Hall Trust

Many of you will know Bunny from the Antiques Roadshow, but you may not be aware that she is a fellow beekeeper. At Daws Hall young people from all backgrounds are able to gain hands-on experience with the bees. The educational bee room is equipped with an observation hive, microscopes, extracting equipment and all sorts of bee paraphernalia. Bunny will speak about her many beekeeping exploits at Daws Hall and how the bees can help to raise the self-esteem of young people. Sponsored by The East of England Co-op & Great Tilkey Honey

Dr Rowena Jenkins, Swansea University Medical School, Department of Microbiology and Infectious Diseases. Rowena is a lecturer in microbiology, her research is focused on the current challenge of antimicrobial resistance, investigating novel antimicrobial agents and their potential role in combating chronic antibiotic resistant infections. A major part of this has been researching the potential of honey as an antimicrobial agent to inhibit and eradicate bacteria. She will inform us about how honey inhibits bacteria, its ability to improve antibiotic activity, the future use of honey in infection control as well as the possible future directions for this special therapy. Sponsored by Global Elevators , Alchemize Ltd & Humphrey Munson Handmade Kitchens

Chris Newenham, Managing Director, Wilkin & Sons Ltd . 'Fruit & Honey, the story of Wilkin & Sons' and how bees are central to their business as pollinators and how honey sales have become increasingly important to the business in recent years. The first jams were produced in Tiptree in 1885 and with a farmed area in excess of 850 acres around Tiptree, the company grows a significant proportion of its own fruit. Sponsored by Wilkin & Sons Ltd
